Multicultural Campus Center for Japanese Language Education and Research offers the Japanese Language Learning Program (non-credit) for international students at our university, as described above.

In principle, classes begin in April for the 1st semester and in September or October for the 2nd semester. As a rule, students are not allowed to join classes after they have started. Therefore, the short-term international students (ex, exchange students) wish to study Japanese at our university, please arrange for their enrollment/arrival to in time for the start of the classes.

In addition, please note that even though you are qualified for enrolment, if the number of students exceed the upper limit of the course, you may not be able to attend.
